Olympics,

Wars and disasters as well as miracles occurred on the international scene during this year. The Egyptian-Israeli War finished almost before it started, but the war in Viet Nam raged on despite possible peace talks. Australia's Harold Holt drowned mysteriously and the USS Pueblo was captured. Performing the heart transplant, Dr. Barnard revealed a completely modern branch of the medical field.

France's Jean-Claude Killy wins the slalom in the 1968 Winter Olympics.

Dr. Christian Barnard explains the success of the first heart transplant at a news conference.

Commander Lloyd M. Bucher and his 83-man crew are the first to experience the capture of an American vessel by the North Koreans in time of peace.

An American helicopter flies into the war zone of Viet Nam to bring supplies to soldiers as they shell a Viet Cong village. Helicopters also play a vital role in rescue efforts.

Maharishi Mahesh Yogi of India demonstrates the meditative thought which has brought him fame.

Searchers comb the Australian coast in an effort to find Prime Minister Holt.

Two Egyptian soldiers begin the walk across the Sinai Desert in an attempt to return home, a result of the defeat of the Egyptians by the Israelis.

The "hippies" of Haight-Ashbury strive for individualism. However, the majority of young people express their beliefs in more accepted ways.

Nation Goes Through Time of Change

Summer riots and racial disorders reached a dramatic climax with the brutal murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and resulted in the instruction of the National Guard and local police in riot control. Among other national disasters were the collapse of the bridge spanning the Ohio River between Gallipolio, Ohio, and Ft. Pleasant, West Virginia, and the eruption of numerous teachers' strikes.

The news spotlight also focused on women with the White House wedding of Lynda Johnson to Marine Captain Charles Robb. Another recipient of widespread attention was Svetlana Alliluyeva, Joseph Stalin's daughter. Her defection from Russia enabled the world to learn the nature of her country at the time of her father's dictatorship.

Radiant Lynda Johnson walks under crossed swords with new husband Marine Captain Charles Robb as they leave the East Room after their well-publicized marriage.

National guardsmen quell riots in the Detroit area. Racial problems plague the country and accumulate in needless loss of property and lives.

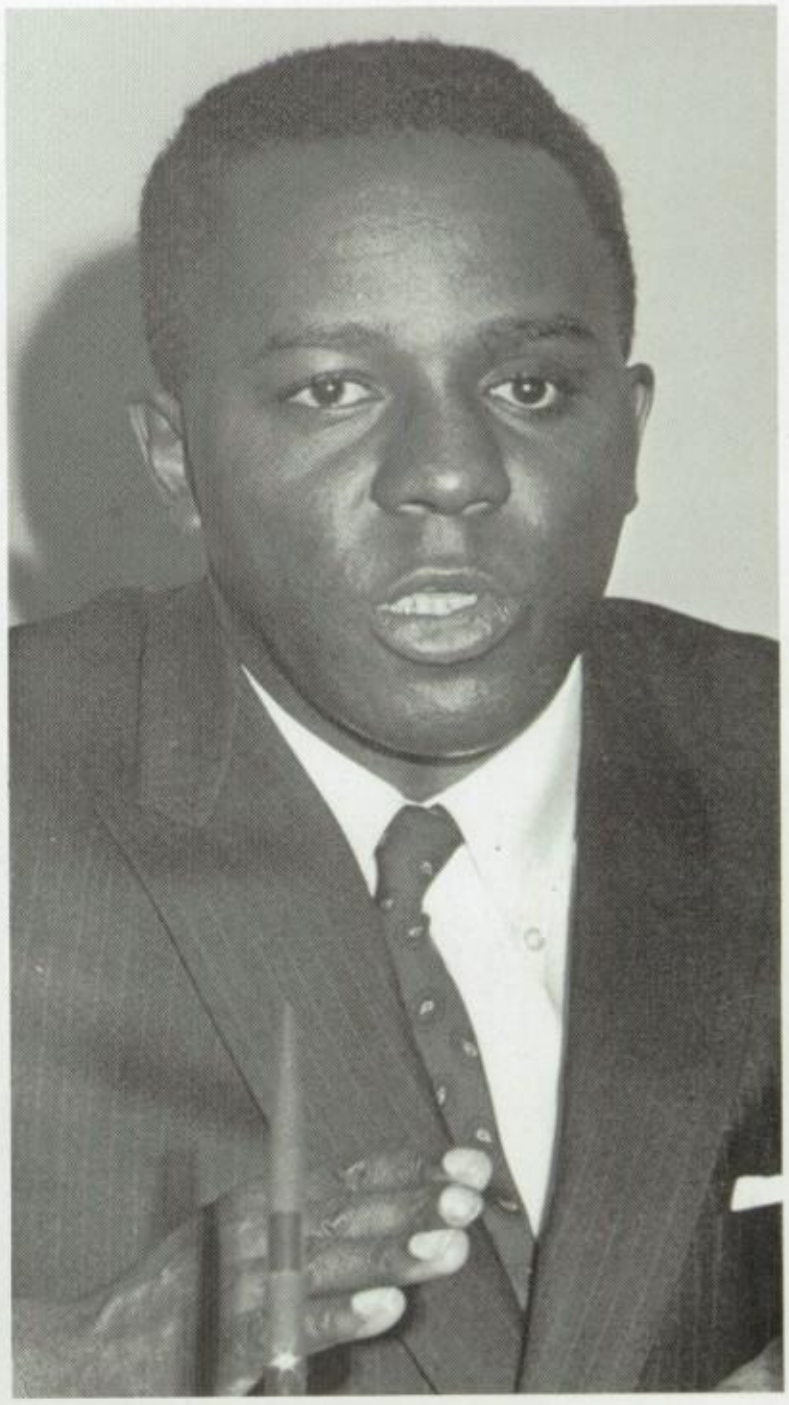
In Detroit, as in numerous other cities of the United States, teachers rebel against low wages and poor working conditions. Such demonstrations are becoming more common throughout the nation.

Rescue teams begin to find unfortunate victims from the collapsed bridge between Gallipolis, Ohio, and Ft. Pleasant, West Virginia by using helicopters.

Displaying a happy smile, Svetlana Alleluyeva, the daughter of the late Joseph Stalin, discusses her defection from Russia with American newspaper reporters.

Bunker Hill is now known as Grissom Air Force Base. Astronaut Gus Grissom, former native of Indiana, is honored in this change of name.

The Haynes Museum opens to Kokomo a collection of artifacts revealing a better understanding of the history of this progressive city.



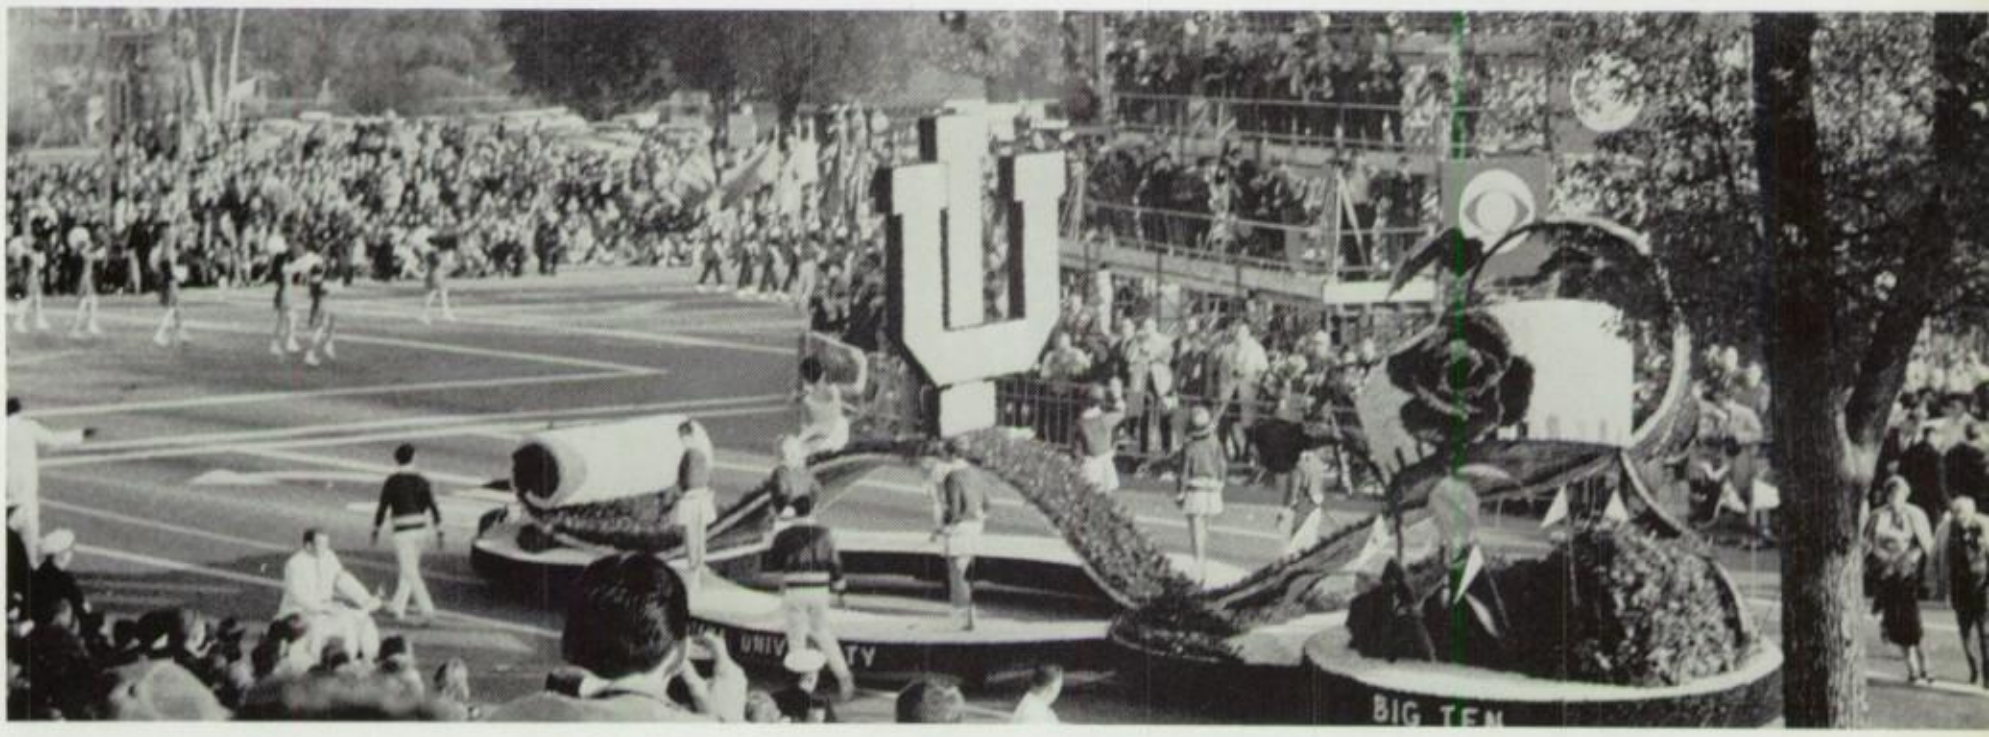
Gary, Indiana, proves racial prejudices do not belong in politics. Richard Hatcher shows that ability is the most important quality of any mayor.

Kokomo and Indiana Reflect the Importance of Progress

As in the past years, progress, tragedy and change enveloped every phase of life.

Locally, educational and political developments highlighted news reports. Construction of Lincoln Elementary School and opening of the Haynes Museum were a small portion of the work done in renovating educational and historical locations.

All Hoosiers honored Astronaut Grissom by renaming Bunker Hill Air Force Base, Grissom Air Force Base. Gary elected its first Negro mayor, Richard Hatcher, while fans supported I.U.'s first Rose Bowl trip.



The Indiana University float joins the 1968 Rose Bowl Parade. Hoosiers are very proud of this university's attempt to win the Rose Bowl crown.

Seniors Begin

With graduation approaching, the senior class looked to the future with expectation and on the past with satisfaction. They entered the halls of KHS in the fall of 1965 for the first time. Orientation day was helpful but failed to cover all the problems these seniors met during their sophomore year of high school. By attending their first formal dances and participating in club activities, the students developed new friendships and encountered valuable experiences.

Their junior year proved to be the important one. Pre-Sat and National Merit Tests began college-bound students preparing for their school acceptance. The first election of class officers led to the planning of the annual Junior-Senior Reception, given for graduating seniors.

By September of '67 the students' senior year had finally arrived. Many approached this time with college and jobs uppermost in their minds. They completed plans of higher education by taking SAT and achievement tests for college admissions. The final year of high school brought numerous activities that were exclusive to the graduating seniors such as the Senior Safari and the Final Fling. As June 7th drew near, many pondered what the future would hold for them.

Juniors Enter 1967-68 School Year with

No longer wide-eyed wondering sophomores, but not quite wise and confident seniors, the class of 1969 found itself in the process of metamorphosis.

Striving to develop individual standards, juniors participated in various academic activities. Their thoughts turned toward requirements for entering vocational schools, junior colleges, and universities. Many took the Pre-SAT and National Merit tests, some winning recognition for extraordinary achievements. Also, Honor Society and Quill and Scroll initiated deserving students into their organizations.

Emphasizing their growing importance at the high school was the selection of their first class officers. These leaders directed the junior class in its projects throughout the school year, the most important one being the Junior-Senior Reception honoring the graduating class.

Parties, dances, and a long-awaited driver's license made this year an exciting one for the members of the junior class. From the experience gained in these various activities, the junior class looked to their senior year with the expectations of making it full of exciting educational and social events.

Sophomores

Mastering first-year qualms, the sophomores began their numerous classes and activities at KHS. These students, having been initiated amidst the chaos of the renovation, realized that separation of the class was inevitable upon the opening of Haworth High School. Adapting to new surroundings, taking their first final examinations, becoming members of a larger student body, and adjusting to increased demands of a more advanced curriculum added to the feelings of frustration and confusion. Discovering, however, that high school was not as frightening as expected, KHS's newcomers proceeded to find new horizons, to broaden their outlooks and opinions, and to form valuable and enduring friendships. Clubs and organizations provided them with a basis for educational and social growth, while honorary societies instilled in them the incentive to strive for perfection. The class of 1970 helped strengthen the athletic teams and assumed leadership in preparation for the following two years. With expectations and determination, these sophomores looked to the future with high ambitions for a successful high school career.

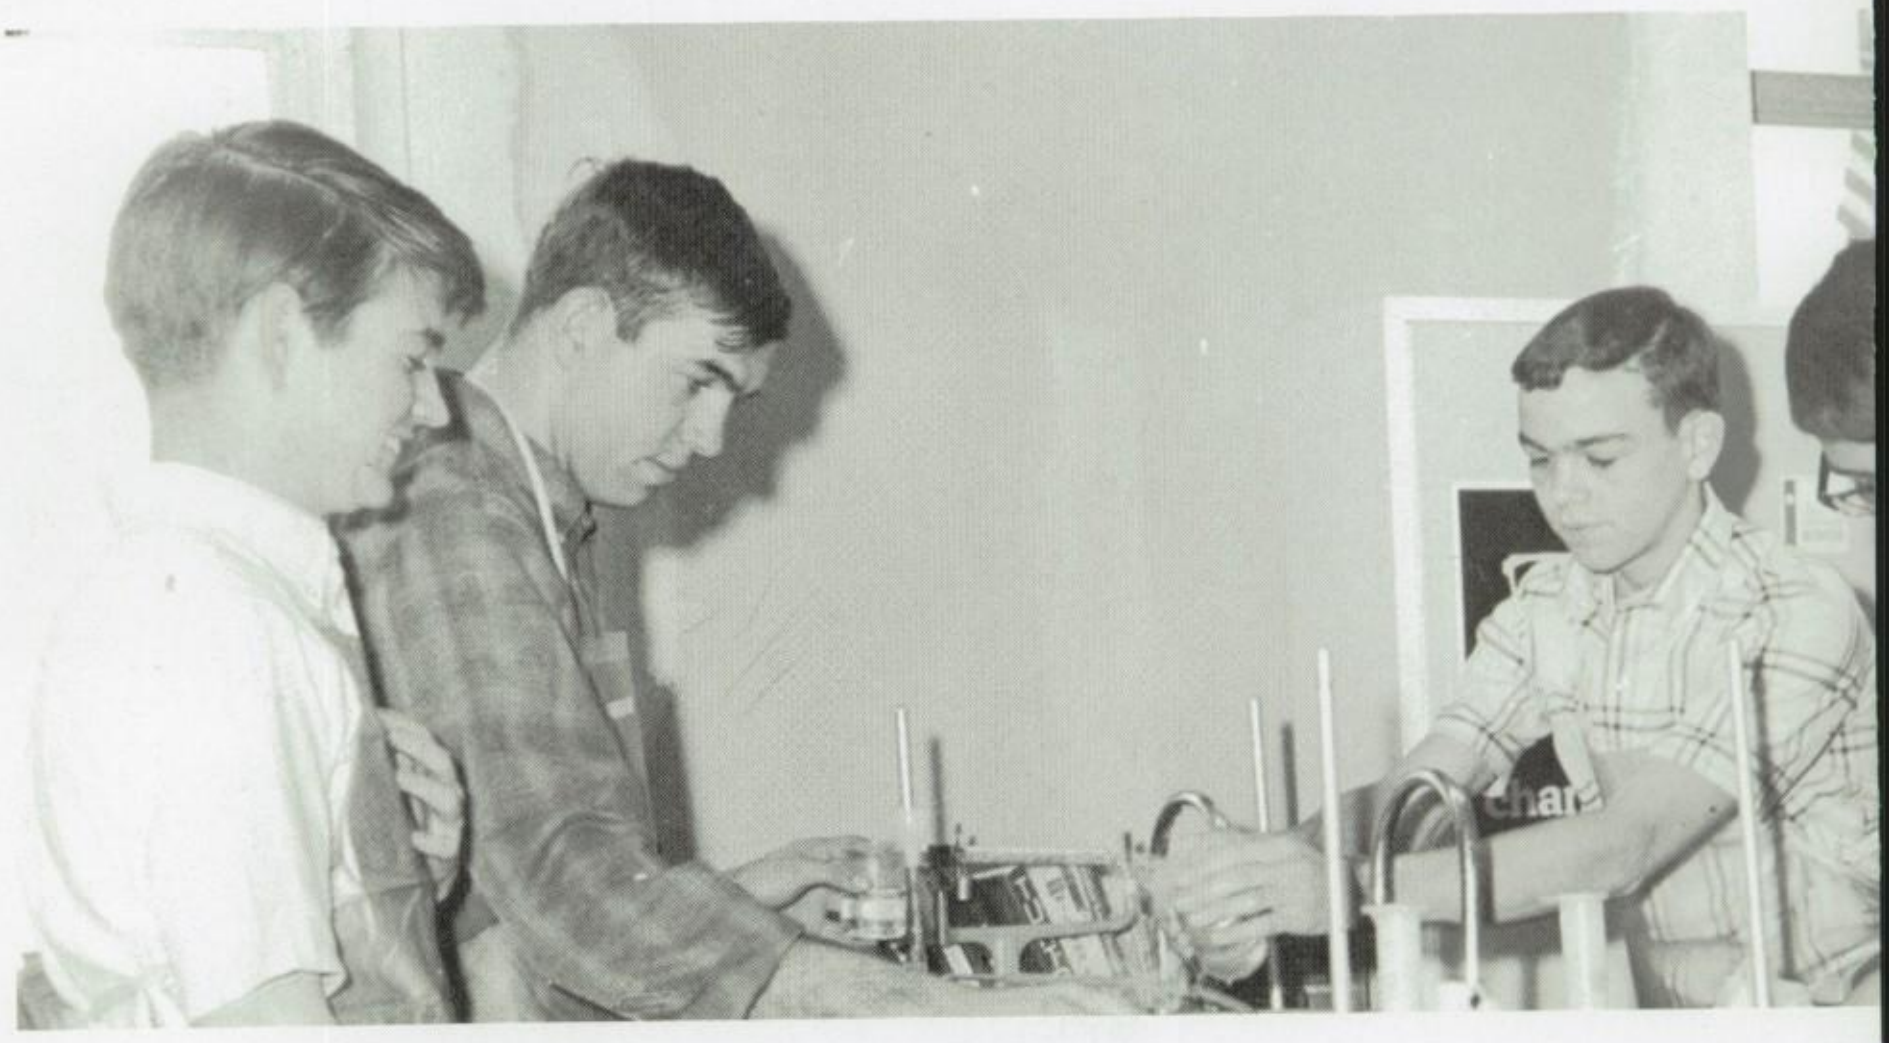
Minds Expand Continually as Students



Debbie McCool practices operating a fire blanket. She will be prepared to pull the cord in case of an emergency.

Carefully observing the electronic stroboscope, senior Bill Miller adjusts and regulates the machine's mechanism for measuring fast time intervals.

Probe the Complexities of Science

Mr. Jones reviews his chemistry class on the characteristics of acids and bases.

Chemistry students set the necessary equipment to generate oxygen. After completing the experiment, they will observe and study the chemical and physical properties.

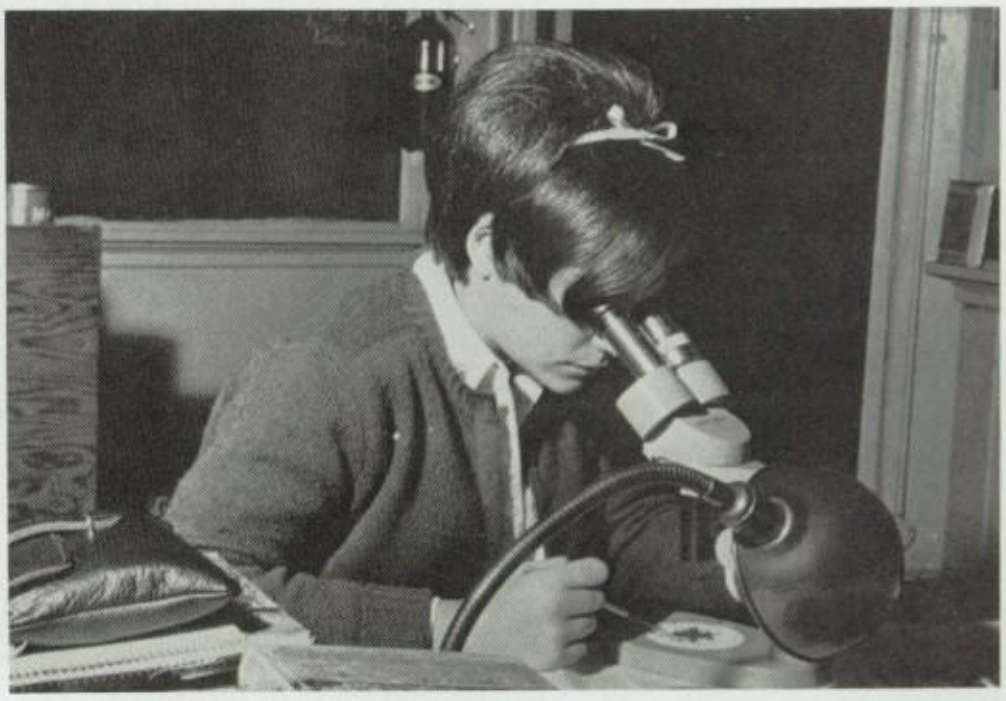
Mr. Tappan endeavors to explain the hidden mysteries of molecular structure to his physics students.

Fifty-two sections comprised the science department at KHS this year. Included in this total were 13 chemistry classes, 23 biology classes, 4 Earth-Space classes, and 7 special classes.

Looking forward, Mr. Doug North, head of the science department, planned for the future expansion of the science facilities. The renovation will include three preparation rooms and an additional laboratory.

As our culture advances to a more specialized society, the amount of scientific knowledge increases five times with each new generation. The main goal of the department was to adapt students to our changing world.

Science Courses Inspire



The steps of observation and experimentation are carried out by sophomore Debbie Beaman as she studies the structure and reproduction of algae.

Jendy Brunk and Steve Conwell find the greenhouse to be a perfect spot for observing and studying the cell arrangement of chlorophyll in leaves.

Students to a Higher Degree of Reasoning

In Mr. Baer's physiology class, Cindy Hill and Phil Butts practice reading the stethoscope which is vital in determining a human's rate of pulse and heart beat.

Jennifer Grimes refers to the physiology graphs to further her understanding of the complexities of the human body.

Angular momentum, a property of physical science, is demonstrated with the use of bricks by Peter Wilkinson and Gary Hyman in their physical science class.

Requirements of Changing Times

Desiring to keep abreast of vital developments in education, the English Department, headed by Miss Elizabeth Handley, devoted much time within the past year to planning innovations in this area. Attention was given to textbook adoption, curriculum changes, and teaching methods.

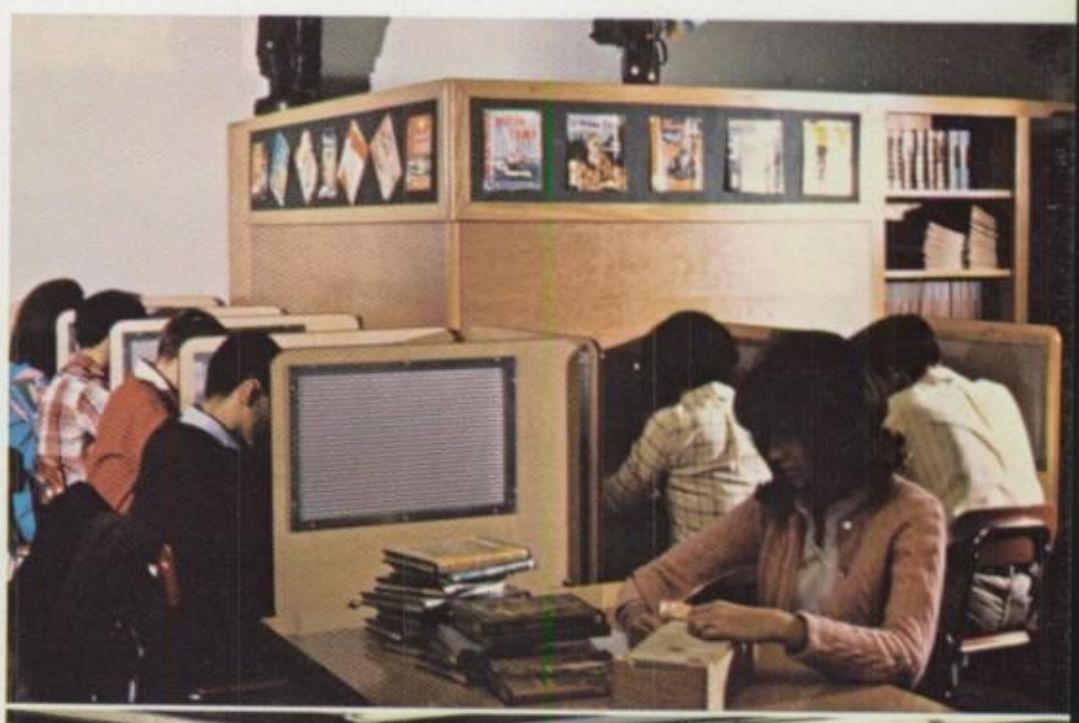
Levels offered to underclassmen included practical, regular, college preparatory, and special. Classes in senior composition, college composition, and world literature provided all seniors with an opportunity to earn an A5. Speech and a new second semester journalism class supplied two elective courses to the curriculum.

Mrs. Betty Elson and Mrs. Louise Ondrik proved capable additions to the faculty.

A change from daily routine is welcome as Mrs. Rich's pupils analyze magazine articles.

Only one student appears to know the answer to the question Mrs. Kelley has just posed. Though an unusual situation, this is a frustrating experience for any conscientious teacher.

Reading machines, tape recorders, and other equipment benefit all.



Students Study and Enjoy French

A foreign language can be puzzling as well as rewarding. Beth Ann Fowler, a first year French student, receives expert guidance from Madame Grant.

"Bonjour, mon ami." During the past year this was one of the many friendly greetings exchanged among the 346 students studying the French language. Such an accomplishment would not have been possible without patient instruction from Madame Grant, Madame Weedman, and Monsieur Dunbar.

The language lab furnished the students with an opportunity to listen to their speech errors. French literature, films, slides, records, and tapes were all utilized.

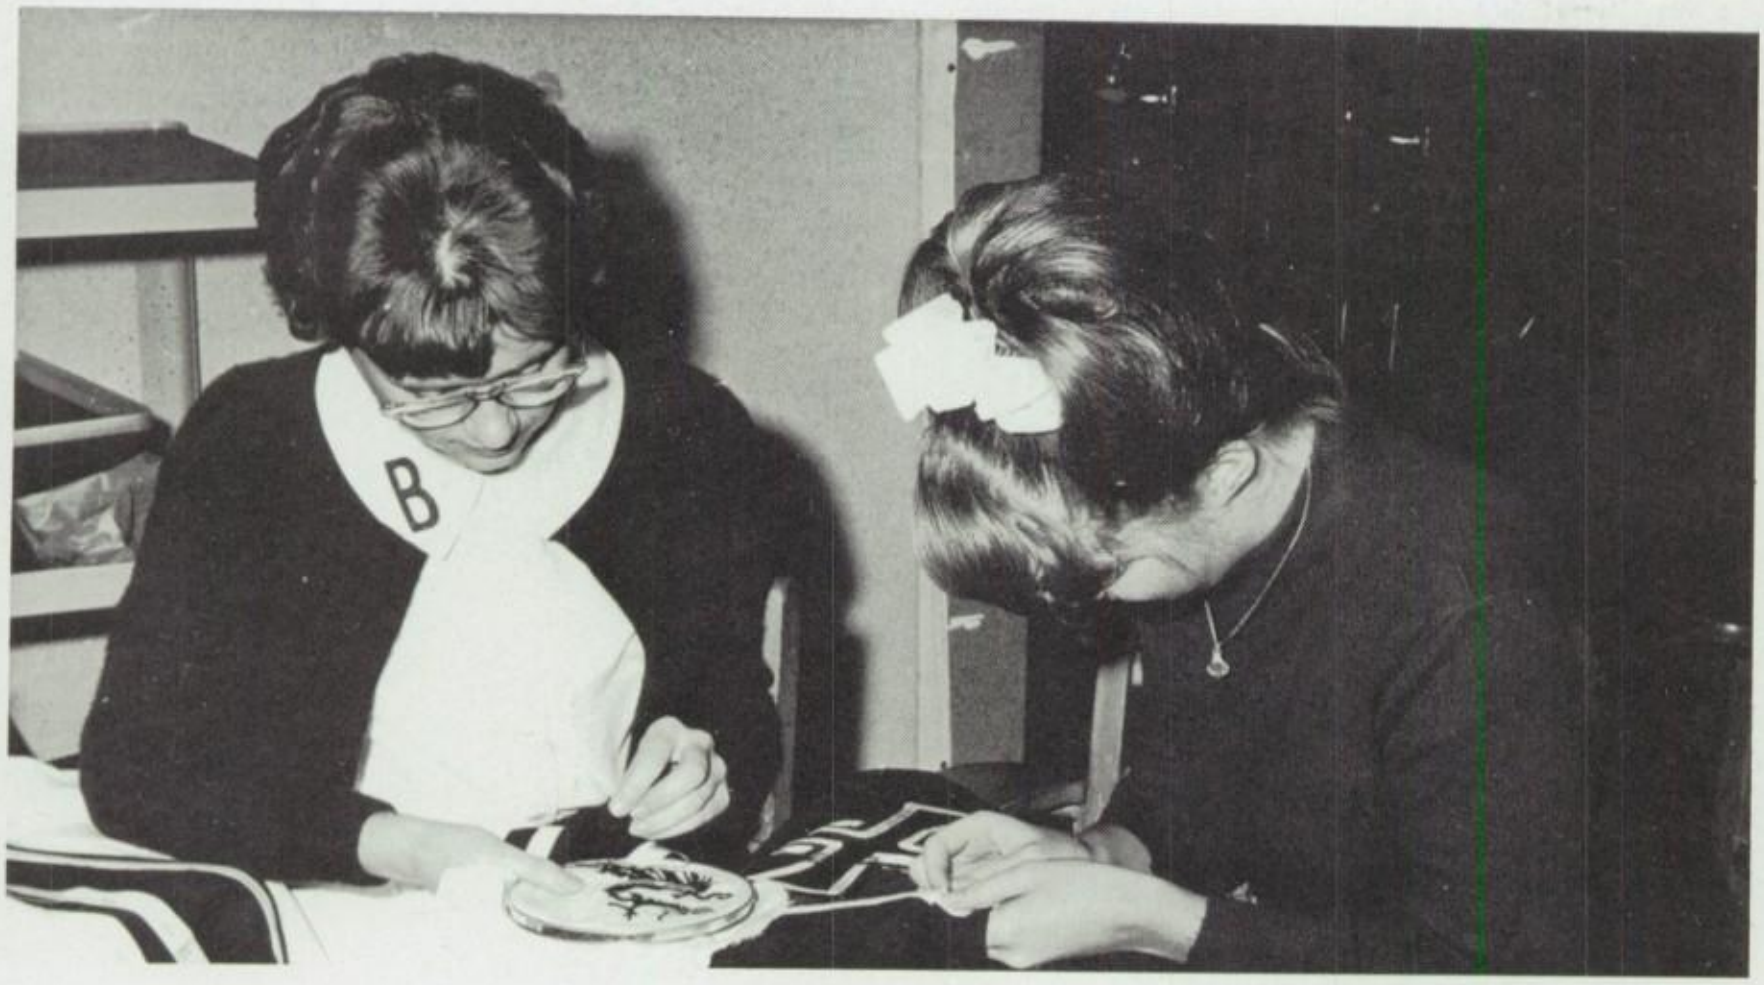
To familiarize her classes with the cultural heritage of France, Madame Weedman makes frequent use of films.

French students take an active interest in foreign affairs, and Linda Kirk develops her interest by constructing a bulletin board concerning French politics.

Mr. Abney, the head of the Language Department, instructs Mr. Koehler, a new German teacher, in the fundamental operations of the language lab.

Students Pursue Perfection

During the past year, German students pursued the goal of perfecting the guttural sounds and correct pronunciation of the German language. Assisting the students in achieving this objective, Mr. Koehler, a new staff member, and Mr. Leiter supplemented the classroom instruction with films, slides, records, and tapes. In addition, students devoted much of their time to the study of the geography, customs, and history of Germany in order to further their understanding of the German culture.



German students engage in many projects concerning the life, customs, and history of the German people. Becky Carter and Marilyn Brown display their artistic talents by constructing the flag.

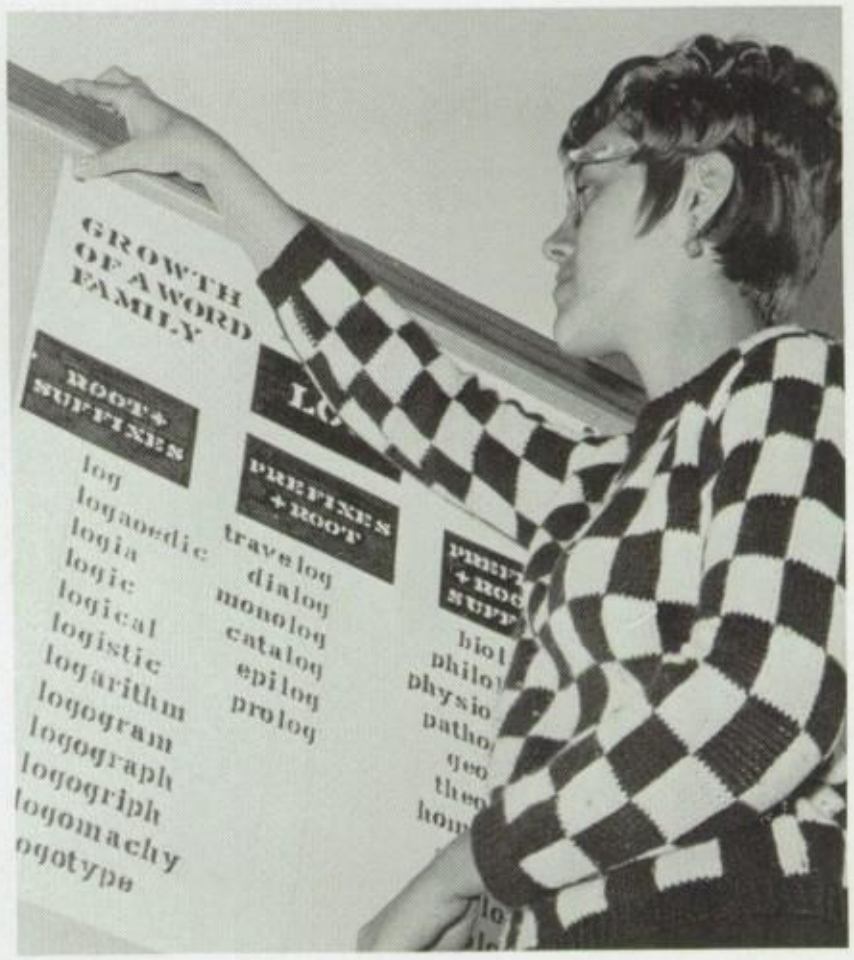
Latin Stimulates Study of Etymology

A Latin-Greek derivatives course was originated by Mrs. Seagrave this year. Sharon Cochran and Harold Willis work with flash cards which are provided for their use.

Taught by Mrs. Seagrave and Mr. Abney, 120 students strove for a better understanding of the Latin language.

Besides acquiring the basic fundamentals of this language, students learned much about the characters of ancient mythology. Those interested could also do extra research work on Roman culture and civilization.

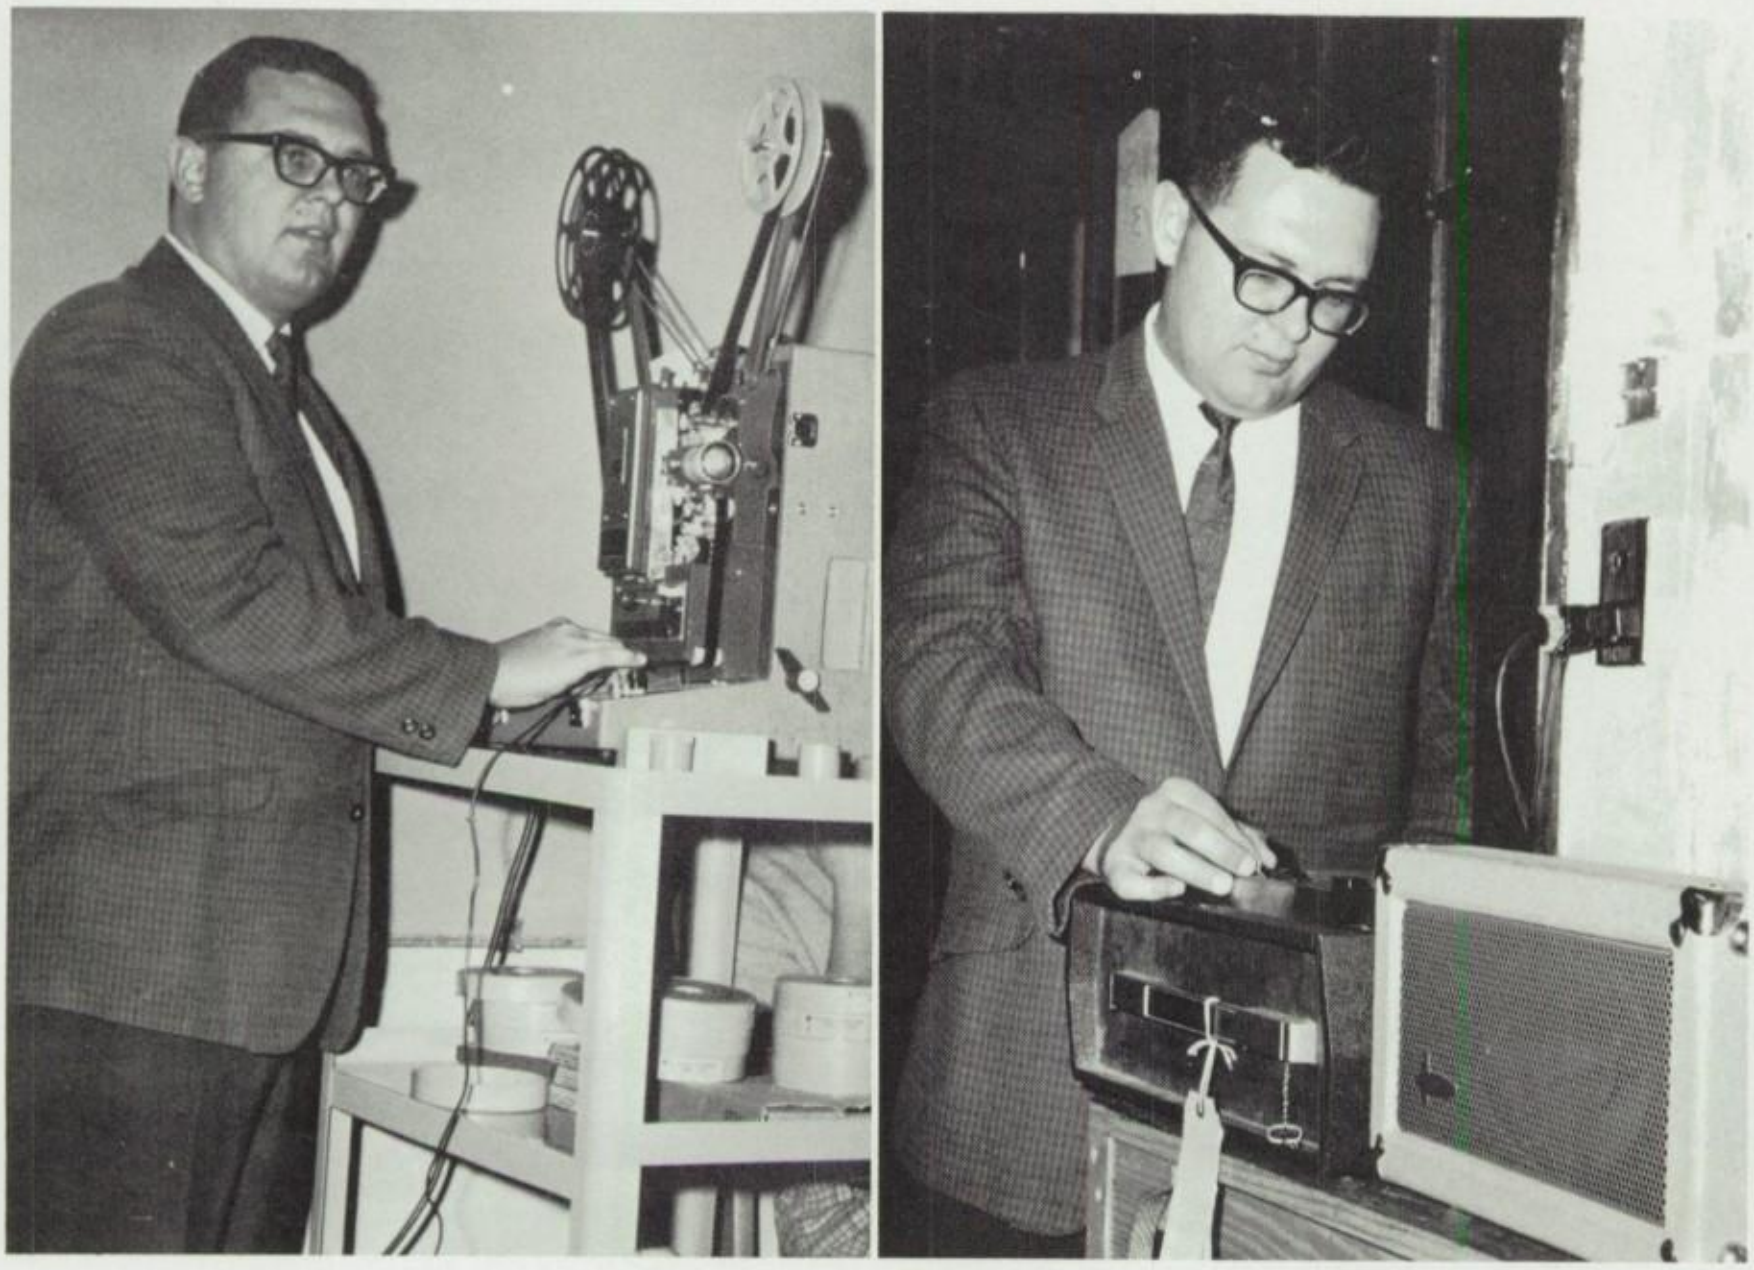
During the year the students published and distributed several issues of the "Latina Laterna." Also, Latin students carolled at the local hospitals and nursing homes.



By making posters, Shirley Bochard expands her knowledge of words derived from the Latin and Greek languages.

Teacher's assistant Bob Fobar and Mr. Abney discuss special systems of grading and organizing the classes' homework and tests.

Spanish Courses Enlighten Students



Through new methods of audio-visual teaching, Mr. Brumbaugh offers students a greater knowledge of the Spanish people and their way of life.

This year 210 Spanish students experienced changes in the teaching methods for their courses when Mr. Burnbaugh, Miss Steele, and Mrs. Harris taught from the Encyclopedia Britanica Cued text. Provided with movies and tapes, classes were almost 100% audio-visual. Several popular Spanish songs presented a modern outlook on the language to the students.

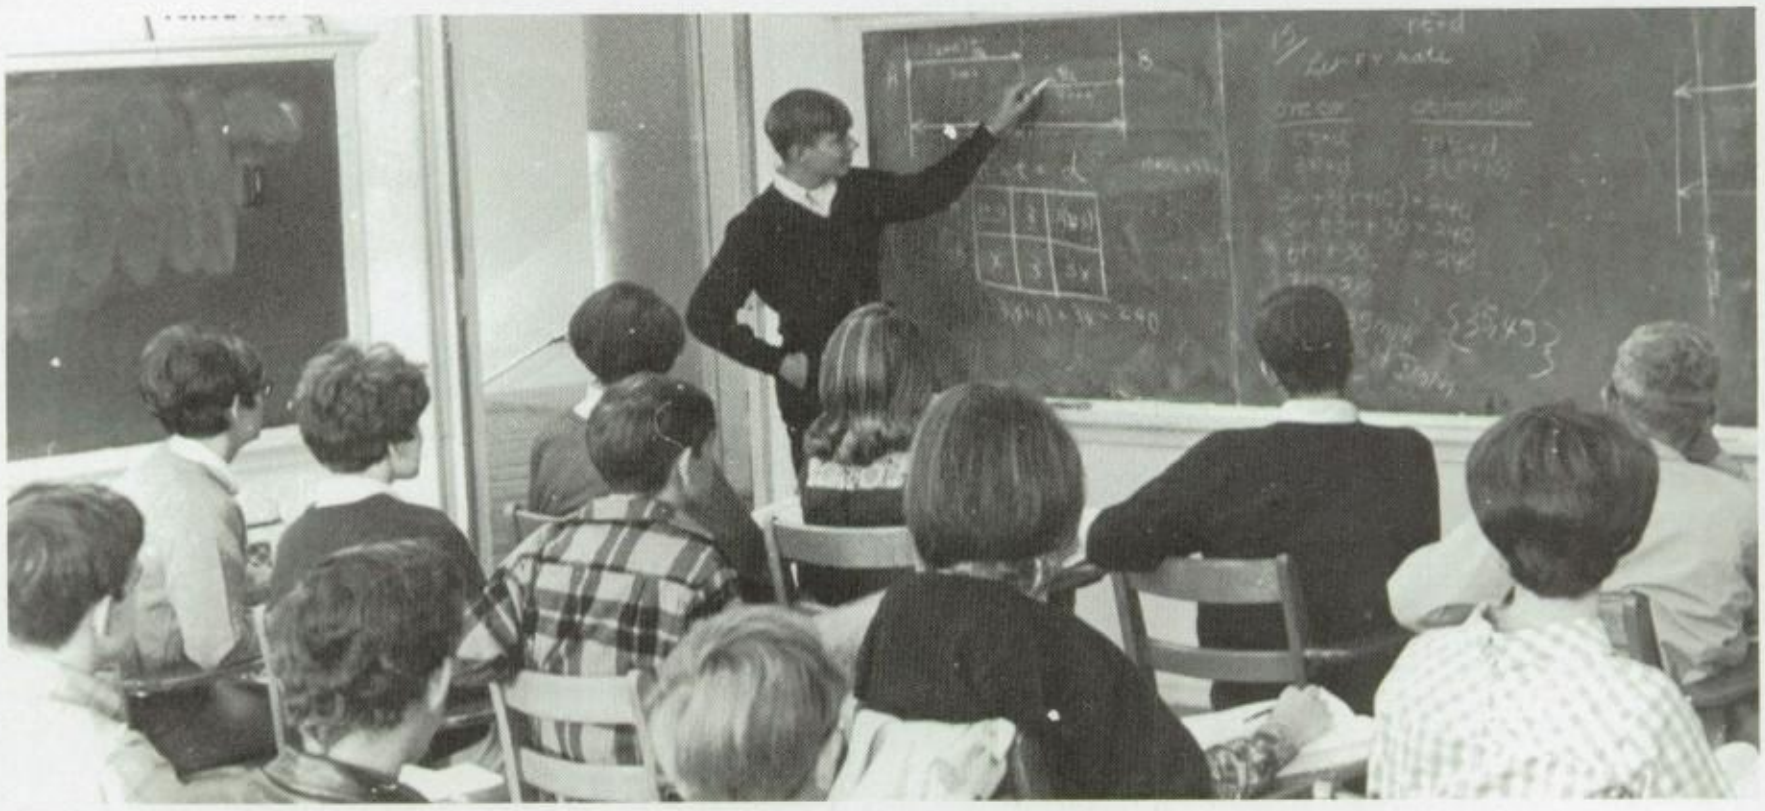
The featured spring activity was the "La Fiesta," a masquerade in which students and their friends dressed in traditional Spanish attire.

During Miss Steele's second year Spanish class, Greg Glass and Taffy Gregory attempt to learn the extremely intricate steps of Spanish dances.

New Mathematical Concepts Challenge

While reviewing facts and figures in geometry, Mike Smoker practices the art of deep concentration and keen alertness.

Kathy Lucas finds that many calculus-analytic geometry problems can be solved through the helpful assistance of Mr. Carter.



Blackboard participation and class recitation are important in the understanding of mathematics. As his classmates look on, John Marshall exercises his knowledge in the solving of difficult problems.

Student Ingenuity and Capability

With ever-changing methods, mathematics proved to be challenging to several students at Kokomo High. Under the careful instructions of Mr. Lee Dixon and seven capable teachers, students expanded their education in this field of facts and figures.

Sophomores were instructed in plane geometry, while more experienced juniors were introduced to regular or advanced algebra courses. Trigonometry and calculus-analytical geometry enlightened more ambitious students. Practical math served as a refresher course for seniors who desired a more stable permanent foundation in mathematics.

Betty Wagner discovers geometry figures as Mr. Dixon offers assistance.

Comparing notes, Mr. Etherington and Mr. Kinslow, new math teachers at KHS, come to many conclusions about grading and assignments.

As geometry completely surrounds Gail Baldwin and Dan Holliday, they patiently search for solutions to an infinite number of perplexing problems to complete their daily assignments.

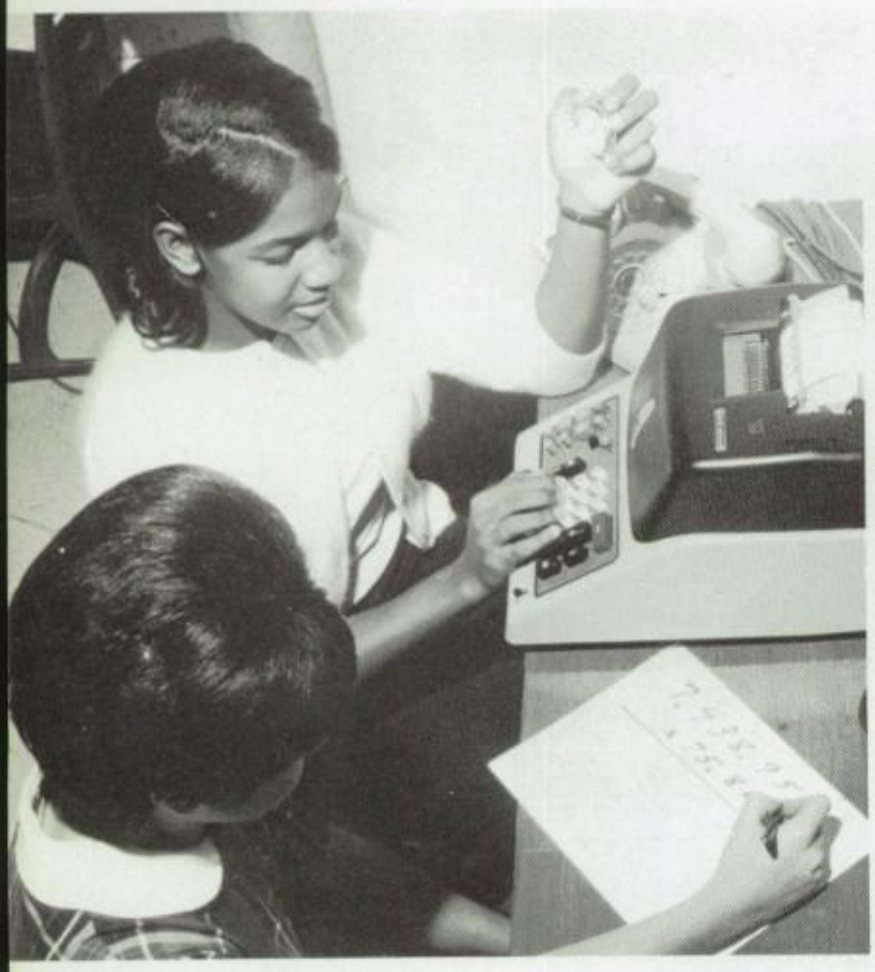
Because democracy depends on an informed citizenry, the goal of the Social Studies Department was to give students a deeper understanding of man's basic achievements.

Mr. Mustard, Mr. Dunbar, and Mr. Landis initiated an experimental teaching program as a more effective method of imparting information to the 1,836 students enrolled in the Social Studies Department.

Vast advances in civilization surveyed by sophomores enrolled in world history proved interesting, while the juniors concentrated on the various events which led to the building of our nation. Government classes investigated the basic principles of our system.

Jim Moffit shows that Time Magazine provides government classes with pictures of numerous political leaders. Articles designed to inform citizens about events of national interest are also included on this attractive bulletin board display.



Working long-hard problems, Melanie Davis competes with Sally Bell adding on the adding machine.

Despite his busy schedule, Mr. Bratton as head of the department, still finds time to look over one of his many assignments.

Receiving instructions from Mr. Pavlick during his afternoon Typing I class, students ready themselves for careers as future business leaders in our community by becoming more experienced, efficient, and qualified typists.

Reflects on Our Changing Society

In our rapidly changing technological society, each person's need for business education has become important. To meet this change, KHS offered a variety of classes to help students prepare for position as business leaders and consumers.

COE, established this year in conjunction with the Indiana State Vocational Office, supplied students with on-the-job training. DCE, a selling course, enabled students to work half days in many stores and continue their classes during the other half. Added to the curriculum was a stenographical lab and a typing-shorthand block which provided business education for students.

Mrs. McClung dicates a shorthand lesson to her students. By practicing skills in this class, the students hope to become more proficient in their work.

DCE and COE Offer Job Training

Susie Wagner proudly displays her collage as she brushes on a finishing coat of paint. Collages are made from various objects pasted together to produce suggestive effect.

Students Express Originality

Novel ideas formed visually exciting shapes and unique experiences for the more esthetic Kokomo High School students. Art classes offered included six semesters of flat art and six semesters of applied or three dimensional sculpturing.

Mr. William Shive and Mr. George Parkinson, additions to the staff, aided Mr. Val Walters and Mr. James Sondgeroth in instructing approximately 250 art students.

The features of a clay sculpture take shape from the working of Cathy Coburn's artful fingers.

Bent intently over their projects, Stormy Werbe, Rick Willoughby, and Mike Pearson put their creative talents to work. Art class enables students to express themselves creatively.

Future Homemakers Acquire Valuable

Mrs. Draving carefully oversees the girls in her class as they begin to cut out their patterns.

Future homemakers sought to achieve efficiency and perfection in their desire to develop a pleasant home atmosphere. To satisfy their ambitions, the curriculum offered valuable instruction in clothing, foods, interior decorating, home nursing, and consumer buying.

By assuming a more active part in social and civic affairs, women have prepared for today's growing needs. These experiences have taught them to become smart consumers and decorative designers for their future homes.

Miniature home furnishings illustrated the various styles of furniture. With the use of these girls realized the effectiveness of proper furniture arrangements. The home nursing and child care courses developed self assurance in situations which could occur in either the home or school.

Gaily decorated tables enhance Miss Doody's food class as girls eat pie which they had prepared.

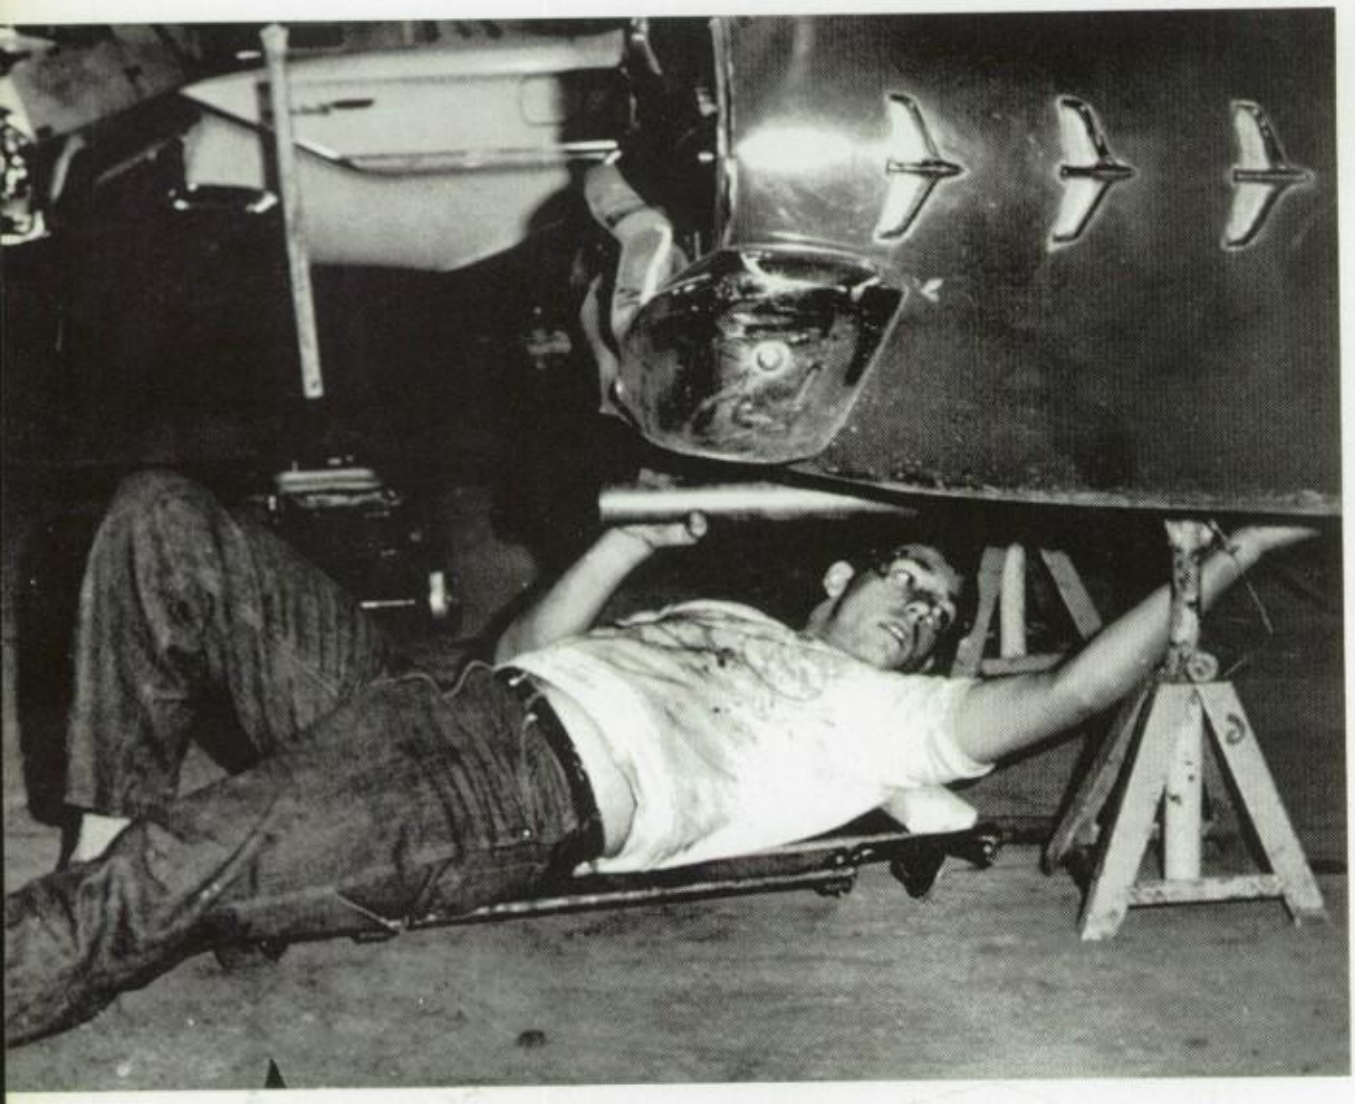
Domestic Experience for Tomorrow's Needs

Mrs. Bartman offers friendly advise to Mary Jane Cole, Karen Fort, and Steve Wyant as they attempt to use their acquired knowledge in interior decorating.

Preparing for parenthood, students in Child Care classes have the chance to observe and become acquainted with small children.

Kermit Wilfon explains one of the many parts of the body during Family Health class. The study of human anatomy is only one aspect of this complex course which imparts beneficial information to future parents.

Industrial Education Teaches



In advanced auto mechanics class, senior Don Cook discovers that there is just as much under the rear end of the car as there is under the hood.

Under the able direction of Mr. William Shipley, the industrial education program helped many students explore and discover various occupational opportunities for the future.

The industrial education program consisted of two separate units, vocational training and industrial arts. Courses in industrial arts included drafting, arts and crafts, electronics, and power mechanics. The main objective of industrial arts was to introduce students to the products, tools, materials, and organization of an industry society.

Vocational training courses specialized in auto mechanics, drafting, and machine shop. The primary purpose of vocational training was to prepare individuals for specific occupations.

Martin Hundley learns the use of such equipment as the distributor tester in his first year of auto mechanics.

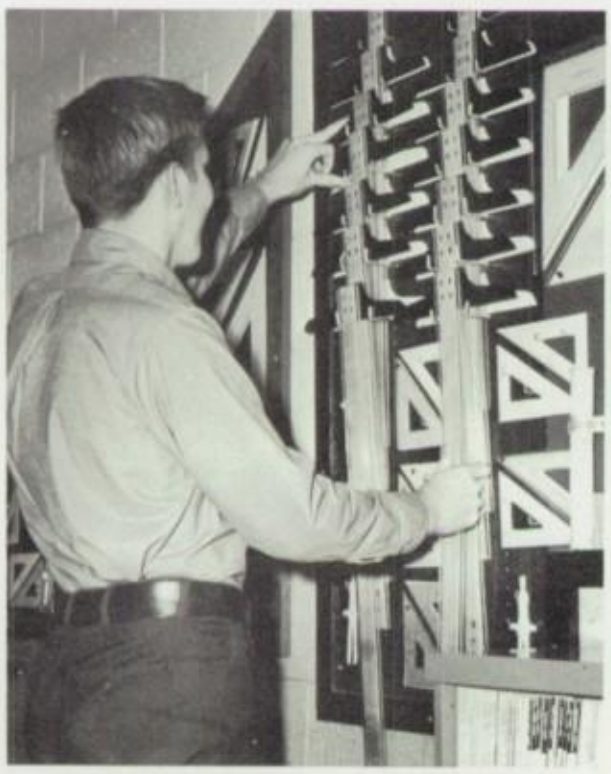
The intricate mechanics of an automobile engine bewilders senior Tom Eads as he attempts to discover the causes of the malfunction. Advanced auto mechanics trains students to cope with the many problems that keep from performing properly.



To prepare a drafting assignment, Paul Wines selects instruments from the equipment panel.

Creation of Rhythm and Harmony

Numerous occasions enabled the band and choirs of KHS to display their specialized talents. The Robed Choir and the Girls' Concert Choir performed at both school and civic functions.

Vibrant melodies emanated from the band as it played at the annual Tri-City Festival and at Purdue University. The band also participated at the football and basketball games and in the Veterans' Day Parade.

Courses involving music history and appreciation provided the students with a chance to develop individual interpretations of musical compositions.

Caution Is Keynote for New Drivers

Combining classroom study with practical application, KHS students gained lifesaving skills and knowledge under the supervision of the seven adept Driver Education instructors.

The use of textbooks supplemented by a variety of charts, maps, and films highlighted the course for twelve weeks, while the remaining six weeks of the semester, pupils practiced their techniques in new cars donated by local agencies. Driving in all conditions provided a very good opportunity for pupils to develop habits which proved beneficial in becoming defensive drivers.

In accordance with the nation's emphasis on physical fitness, KHS attempted to provide students with an expansive program in gymnastics. Boys' activities stressed the acquirement of muscular development through such sports as basketball, football, volleyball, and track.

Concentrating on the attainment of better physical coordination, girls' gym classes engaged in various recreational sports. Archery, shuffleboard, tennis, and volleyball provided a knowledge and skill of activities to be enjoyed in the future.

A new innovation at the high school last year was the intramural program. Mr. Bushong headed this program which, along with regularly scheduled gym classes, gave Kokomo High School the opportunity to proclaim proudly that it had provided students with the chance to improve their bodies as well as their minds.

Swimming Introduces Aquatic Skills

Swimming classes enabled numerous KHS students to participate in a popular activity and at the same time improve their coordination and muscular durability. Because the school's facilities did not include a pool, boys made extensive use of the new natatorium at the YMCA. The girls' classes met each morning at the nearby YWCA.

Red and Blue Editors and Writers

Credited for the publication of the school's bi-weekly paper were 18 student editors and two sponsors, Mrs. Louise Ondrik and Mr. Gale Leiter. Assisted by 42 writers, this determined staff related school issues and reported on the latest happenings. Student photographers captured even the smallest items of interest for their readers.

All students had the opportunity to contribute to the voice of KHS by submitting original cartoon sketches or articles of personal opinion. During these months of transition at Kokomo High, the Red and Blue kept its subscribers well informed.

With the assistance of student manager Neil Webster, the staff conducted an extensive subscription drive to increase the number of prospective subscribers. Roll room representatives helped with circulation by aiding with sales and distribution. In addition, six members worked to maintain the Red and Blue's financial support by soliciting advertisements from the merchants.

The Council planned an Easter party for deprived children and a dance for Kokomo High School students. American Field Service Encourages and Bonnie Jones and her American sister Darlene Watson admire gifts which Bonnie receives at her surprise birthday party, given by some of her newly acquired friends.

The prime objective of the American Field Service program was to develop and secure international goodwill among students. Kokomo High School partook in this activity through the Summers Abroad and the winter program.

Coming from Australia, AFS'er Bronwyn Ann Jones, known as Bronnie, spent the past year with the J. Robert Watson family. Bronnie experienced many new adventures but expressed that the most memorable was our winter weather and snow.

Ann Mehlig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. Mehlig, was Kokomo High's AFS student abroad. She journeyed to Nuoro in Sardinia where she stayed with the Franco Floris family and participated in foreign customs and traditions.

While writing to her adopted family, Ann Mehlig reminisces about her experiences as an AFS student in Sardinia.

Frolicing with the Dads and crowning the "Big Chief Valentine" are the main events of the Father-Daughter Romp, an annual Valentine's Day occurrence.

Completing its thirty-second year, Girls' League successfully upheld its ideals and standards of leadership, cooperation, and fun under the guidance of Miss Imogene Winslow. The school year opened in September with the first League project, "Sir Slob and the Princess," a play given for elementary children. In October couples attended the long awaited Autumn Prom. "Apple for a Teacher Day" enabled the girls to honor their favorite teachers. On Valentine's Day girls frolicked with their dads at the annual Father-Daughter Romp. Girls eagerly anticipated the "Senior Safari", a bus trip to Chicago to see the musical "Mame" The Mother-Daughter Reception climaxed the 1967-68 Girls League year.

Stardust 1968 Proves to Be a Mystifying

"An Oriental Adventure" was the theme for the 1968 Stardust Ball. A magnificent, mystifying pavillion surrounded by a garden provided the background for the coronation ceremonies. Tiny Japanese wishing wells served as center pieces for over 200 tables. Larry Kirkman and his orchestra played for this event. The climax of the evening came when Mike McCroskey, general co-chairman, crowned Cynthia Hueston the Stardust Queen.

Boys' Legion joined forces with Girls' League to produce Shindig '68'. Local talent provided the entertainment for this show. Next, they sponsored the Has Been—Will Be basketball game and donated the money to handicapped children. The climax of the year was the 1968 Stardust Ball. All boys worked to produce a great year-end dance.

Honoraries Recognize Student

Honor Society secretary, Carolyn Thompson, endeavors to separate minutes and attendance lists in preparation for the upcoming induction ceremony.

Initiates of the National Honor Society, selected on the basis of their scholarship, leadership, service, and character, strove to attain the high ideals of that organization throughout the year. This spring, 50 juniors and 47 seniors became members of the KHS chapter. The officers for the past year were as follows: Dave Roberts, president; Jim Himelick, vice-president; Carolyn Thompson, secretary; and Pat Miller, treasurer.

Conscientious effort in working on a school publication enabled students to become members of Quill & Scroll, a national journalistic honorary. Initiates must have earned 80 points through effective use of literary talent on Sargasso or Red and Blue.

"Fords, Flappers, Fanatics" Provide

The climax of the Jr-Sr Party is the crowning of the king and queen. King Bobby Mackey and Queen Trish Carey in traditional "Roaring 20's" costume reign supreme over the evening's festivities.

the Mood for Jr-Sr Party

Revolving around "fords, flappers, and fanatics", the annual Jr-Sr Party was a festivity of fun and games. The "Roaring 20's" set the mood, and a pie-throwing booth, an antique car, a movie theater, a refreshment booth, and a soda shop provided the atmosphere and setting.

The crowning of Queen Trish Carey and King Bobby Mackey took place at the soda shop midway through the festivities. The coronation brought the evening's events to a climax as juniors honored graduating seniors.

Refreshments provide welcome change of pace. Mr. Moore flashes a smile as he enjoys his refreshments for the evening.

Besides enjoying the booths, refreshments, and the coronation ceremony, students jammed to the music of the Idle Few.

Thespians Join Efforts for Success

Director Miss Elsie Seagrave and the 1967-68 KHS Thespians officers perform the initiation ceremonies for the new Taylor High School Thespian Troupe.

Thespian Troupe 979 performed the broadway production of Li'l Abner. The play was presented on April 27 and 28 for the community and Kokomo High School students. It proved to be very successful. The adventures of Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae, portrayed by two talented juniors Rick Ondrick and Linda Ward, were excellent. Other important characters were Sue Schwartz as Mammy Yokum, and Fred Seifers as Pappy Yokum. Dogpatch USA was the setting for the play. It involved the town's fate with the government and the atomic bomb.

Production of Li'l Abner Proves Successful

Bonnie Darling tries her skill in putting make-up on Jay Jewell who seems to be very apathetic about the situation.

Li'l Abner emphatically demonstrates how he will run in the Sadie Hawkins Day Race to keep out of Daisy Mae's reach.

"What is it? It's a deadly weapon! She could stupify any male; she could stop Purdue on the one-yard line!" These are the words of Dr. Finsdale who has been confronted by Stupefyin Jones.

Dramatic Abilities Shown in Li'l Abner

Marryin' Sam and his fellow Dogpatchers sing praises to a well-loved Dogpatch hero. "Why, it was Jubilation T. Cornpone! He really saved the day!"

"Deahly beloved, we is gathered here today . . . but wait, Ah just can't do it!" Marryin' Sam halts the marriage ceremony of Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner.

Before the big performance, Maretta Artis skillfully applies the finishing touches on Allen Horn's makeup.

With underhanded thoughts in mind, Pierre and Philippe (Laddie Hood, Clark Balcom) decide it is definitely better to "Marry an American".

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"

Mrs. Elsie Seagrave, the sponsor of Dramatic Club, directed another memorable production this year when the club enacted "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay". Among their other activities, Dramatic Club produced "Spark-in", a one act play, and performed it before the Kiwanis Club and the Eastern Star.

Thespian and Dramatic Clubs united their efforts to present the "Minor Miracle" at the Fine Arts Festival. In the spring, members from these two clubs once again combined talents and brought to life "Li'l Abner". The spring banquet, highlighted by the installation of new officers, completed the activities of the Club.

The ship's officers (Jim Snider, Rick Ondrick, Steve Moore) cannot escape the advances of two girls (Sue Schwartz, Vickie Allen).

Palette Club Promotes New Talents

Palette Club provided its enthusiastic members with numerous opportunities through the '67-'68 school year to develop their artistic abilities. In October the club spent many hours painting amusing Halloween pictures on the local store windows. To add to the students' interests in art, the group made a special trip to visit several Chicago museums including the Chicago Institute of Art. When school spirit was at its peak during tourney time, they sold Wildcat posters. The proceeds from this project were used to finance the Palette Club Scholarship.

Future Physicians and Future Nurses

Sharon Cochran consults with her father, a local pharmacist, about the use of different drugs.

Students who were members of Future Physicians and Future Nurses attained much valuable information about many professional opportunities offered in the field of medicine. Local doctors, pharmacists, and nurses presented many interesting programs to the clubs concerning the educational requirements, the responsibilities, and the rewards of their professions.

Field trips to various medical centers were the main highlights for Future Physicians while the Mother-Daughter Program was the Future Nurses' main event.

Stan West and Dave Crume take time out to enjoy their sack lunches during the Future Teachers of America initiation held in the shelter house at Highland Park.

Change is the product of enlightened minds, and the primary goal of FTA was to stimulate interest in the world of education as a vocation. Guided by Mrs. Ruth Suter, more than fifty young men and women sought to gain a better understanding of the teaching profession.

During the year several guest speakers presented informative talks to the club members. At Easter time the club sponsored a party for handicapped children. In the spring initiation of the new officers was held at the Waffle House. The main project of the club was to sponsor Elf Week to honor the faculty members.

JCL Explores Ancient Customs

Tom Foster, president of JCL, discusses with club members the forecoming meetings and projects. JCL's purpose is to probe the Roman and Greek influence on our culture.

Le Cercle Francis, the Junior Classical League, Spanish Club, and German Club provided foreign language students of Kokomo High School with an opportunity to enrich their knowledge of the history of each specific language. Memberships in these clubs were open to any KHS student who had taken Spanish, German, French, or Latin. This year JCL held a Roman slave sale, Le Cercle Francis enjoyed a French Mardi Gras, Spanish Club members frollicked at a Spanish Fiesta, and German Week gave German students time to display many decorative exhibits.

New this year, the Astronomy Club afforded students a chance to explore many heavenly bodies. The Voice of Christian Youth advised by Mr. Keith Slaughter gave teens the occasion to discuss with speakers, and priests on the problems of youth today.

Deeply absorbed in a challenging chess game, Randy Strode anxiously awaits Jim Sottong's next decisive move.

Through the Hi-Y clubs, Kokomo youths gave their time and energy in helping with several community projects. Their service was evident in the Y's Men Christmas tree sale at the Seashore, the YMCA World Service collection, and the Salvation Army's holiday drive.

At their weekly meetings, they strove to promote service and citizenship in the youth of our community. Each club competed with others for points from community projects, and the club which earned the most points during the year received an award.

In addition to many after-game dances, these clubs sponsored the Y-Trap and the Sno-Ball.

The delegates from each club to Youth and Government spent an entire weekend in Indianapolis, the state capital.

Members of this program received valuable on-the-job training and additional work experience for their high school credits and diploma.

Junior Achievement Members

Junior Achievement was organized for high school students to become better acquainted with the world of business. The initial step began with companies raising money through the sale of stock to finance production. Each company was established as an individual corporation headed by students elected to offices by company members. These companies received invaluable aid and support from advisors who were businessmen and women, helping to organize and supervise production. From their group participation in JA, students learned business procedures.

JA member Julie Wright learns the importance of choosing a product that people will buy.

Acquire Useful Business Skills

Figuring the total profit for their JA sales, Carol Pryor, Sheryl Rice, and Mike Lembke discover the rewards which come from being a JA member.

Connie Hayes and Kenny Steinborn find time to sample the refreshments during the annual JA Openhouse directed by the JA members.

A convincing speech could constitute a sale. Senior JA member Linda Karnes prepares to give a talk about her company's product.

Kokettes Add Sparkle to KHS Athletic Events

Whether marching through the main streets of Kokomo or performing at the half-time sessions at the school's athletic events, the Kokettes coordinated their routines to the musical arrangements of the high school band. With the aid of Miss Fausset and Mr. Jones, the 18 pom-pom girls spent the '67-'68 athletic season developing their various dance routines. They provided the Homecoming, Halloween, and Air Force parades with color and excitement. The Kokettes, along with the band and majorettes, also made a fall trip to Lafayette to participate in the Purdue University Band Day. Vigorous and sparkling enthusiasm characterized the Kokettes wherever the group performed.

Majorettes Master Twirling Techniques

Besides marching at numerous events, the Kokomo Majorettes performed for cheering crowds during the football and basketball games. Performing at KHS was only part of the excitement that the 7 twirlers experienced. They twirled for Marion High School and joined other majorettes from all over Indiana to present a pre-game baton show at Purdue. No matter what the event, the KHS Majorettes always succeeded in adding the finishing touches that were necessary to make any show as outstanding success.

Season with Outstanding 8—3 Record

Coach Ross Dwiggin's harrier squad completed another successful season this year. Even though the Kats had stiff competition, they finished with an excellent 8—3 season. Outstanding runners for the Wildcats gave Kokomo a third place finish in the NCC. Opponents included such NCC rivals as Marion, Muncie Central, and Lafayette Jeff. Superb running from Bob Hayes, Doug Rounds, and Dan Ellis gave the Kats tremendous advantages.

This North Central quarterback finds no available running room as three Kats grab him for the down. Kokomo suffered a bitter defeat against the highly rated Panthers.

This year the Kokomo Kats suffered disappointing losses to difficult opponents. After being humbled by the LaPorte Slicers, 40—19, the Kats came back to "buck" the Broncos of Lafayette Jeff. Defeats to Elkhart and the Bloomington "eleven" dimmed the Kats' state championship aspirations, though Kokomo regained its poise and prowess by humiliating NCC rival Logansport 26 to 13 at the Berries' field. The Wildcats met defeat at the hands of the Marion Giants and homecoming rival South Bend St. Joseph but regained their preseason momentum by tieing Anderson's Indians 27 to 27. The Kats closed out the 1967 gridiron season with losses to Richmond and North Central.

One important aspect of football is the warm-up. The KHS varsity football team goes through pregame calisthenics to limber up and to relax the tensions for the upcoming game.

The Kokomo reserve football squad ended an eight game season with a record of 5 wins and 3 losses. The head coach, Mr. Richard Donovan, and his experienced staff, Mr. William Fox, Mr. Larry Ruch, and Mr. John Bingaman, gave the Kubs a background which will prove valuable during future seasons.

This year the Kubs opened against Logan and came home with a 7—0 winning score. The next two victims were Lafayette Jeff, 13—7, and Peru, 39—7. The fourth win tripped Marion, 13—6, and a 6—2 victory over Taylor gave the Kubs five successive wins. Anderson gave them their first loss, 6—7, and Jeff of Lafayette defeated the Kubs, 6—25. Marion crushed the reserves, 27—19 in their final contest of the season.

Kats Show Spirit with a Team Endeavor

After an uneven beginning, Les Ray's varsity netmen conquered formidable competition in compiling a respectable record of 18 wins and 8 losses.

The Kat's first victory came in the season opener, 71—42, over Maconaquah's tall Braves, but lost an NCC battle to Lafayette Jeff, 67—50. The Wildcats defeated North Central's Panthers 75—59, and dropped the next two games to rival Marion, 61—56, and to South Bend Central in an overtime.

At Marion's Holiday Tourney, Kokomo trounced Madison, 114—72, but lost to Marion for the second time this year.

Of the Wildcats twelve remaining scheduled contests, they lost only three, one to Elmhurst, 63—58, Muncie Central, 70—59, and a double-overtime decision, 69—67 to the Southport Sparkplugs.

The Kats won impressive performances over East Chicago Washington, Richmond, and Anderson, and toppled Tech and New Castle, 72—65 and 68—65 respectively to round out the season. The inspired K-towners advanced to the semi-state before losing to Michigan City.

As the Kats come onto the floor, Frankie Watters encounters a brief incident with a paper foe that has covered his face.

Being double-teamed by opposing players, sophomore Bruce Rose tries to move out of trouble.

Reserves Obtain Valuable Experience

In his first year as assistant coach, Mr. Gene Turner took his squad through to a winning season, 14—6. The Kubs beat Maconaquah, 53—44, then failed to stop Lafayette Jeff, nudging the reserves by a point, 54—53. North Central submitted to the Kubs, 61—51, but Marion handed them the worst loss of the season, 51—35. The determined reserves came back to beat South Bend Central and F. W. North to boost their record to 4—2. At the B-team tourney, the Kubs met Marion again and lost by a three-point margin, 54—51. Of the twelve remaining games, the reserves lost only three. The three defeats were to the same teams to whom the varsity lost.

Capture Second Place in State Finals

Again this year the swimmers had a successful season. Coach Mal Cofield's tankers ran up a 12—0 season record and placed second in the state. Two firsts were posted by Kokomo in the state meet; the 400 free relay (Rick Roberts, Roger Ridenour, Brad Zirkle, Dave Roberts) and the 50 yd. freestyle (Dave Roberts). However, the highlight of the season was the downing of Culver, who had defeated our swimmers last year. Our team spirit was, as always, superb.

Tanker Steve Gordon knows that a good stroke is needed to swim well.

KHS wrestlers began the season with a bitter defeat by old rival Lafayette Jeff, but they turned the tables on their next opponent, Logansport. Overall, Coach Hamilton's squad completed the season with a 6—5—1 record. The Kats placed second in the NCC and captured first place in the sectional. The grapplers were led by such fine standouts as Art Carter, Jim and Dan Patterson, Pete Wilkinson, and Greg Goff.

Place Second in NCC and Sectional

Despite several crucial defeats throughout the season, the Wildcat track team qualified three tracksters for the state championships and captured second place in the critical NCC meet. Seniors Bill Artis, Greg Robeson, and Chuck Sosbe represented KHS in shotput, low hurdles, and high jump events respectively in the state classic. Veterans Allen Tucker and Phil Butts were both major score boosters throughout the season. Lack of depth was the major problem which confronted Coach Bob Bushong during the year. The season aided in the development of many underclassmen.

Inclement weather hampered the veteran Kats as they completed a 9—6 season. Rain caused the cancellation of six games, while three others were played later. Mr. Joe Platt and Mr. Keith Slaughter coached the Wildcats, a team composed of eleven returning lettermen.

Mike Cooper and Gary Zimpleman combined their pitching talents to complete five shut-outs, Indianapolis Washington, 4—0; Logansport, 5—0; Carmel, 16—0; Lafayette Catholic, 2—0; and New Castle, 3—0. The Kats won four other contests, highlighted by a 19—1 rout over Cardinal Ritter. After eleven innings, the Tigers of Peru surprised the Kats 3—4 in the sectional ending a rain-plagued season.

Stiff Competition Hinders Tennis Team

Kokomo racketeers completed their season with a dissappointing record for both the coach, Mr. Robert Hamilton, and the players themselves. The Kats lone victory over Muncie Central, 5—2, was over-shadowed by twelve defeats. In three of the last five matches, however, the Wildcats lost by only one point. This demonstrated their desire to win and team spirit, admirable traits on any team.

Senior Greg Carr runs toward the net to meet the ball and slam it back to his opponent.

Golfers Improve with Experience

KHS had all five of the varsity return from last year, but many newcomers were substituted frequently. Kokomo's golfers made several fine showings this year in dual meet competition. Highlights of the season were wins over Lafayette Jeff, Noblesville, Tech, and Arlington. The Kats placed fourth in the NCC and second in the sectional. Mike Kennedy tied for low medalist in the sectional but lost during the second hole of the playoff. The next week Kokomo placed sixth in the regional and then went on to stomp Tech.

Competent Coaches Maintain KHS Spirit

What makes a coach? At KHS it is vigor and vitality and the willingness to work. Coaches, trainers, and managers prepared our teams to represent our school throughout the state of Indiana. During the year the coaches, some of them the most qualified in the state, maintained enthusiasm and sportsmanship from players and spectators alike. Toiling long hours after school, the various coaches worked diligently to develop winning teams. Without the help from the trainers and managers, the burdens and responsibilities of the coaches would have been doubled. Taping ankles, caring for equipment, and boosting team morale were all a part of their many duties.

KUB CHEERLEADERS—Kay Nick, Betsy Lacey, Brenda Heathcote, Marge Wheeler.

Outstanding talent, friendliness, and leadership characterized the KHS cheerleaders throughout the year. Diligent practice and teamwork enabled the girls to coordinate their yells with the vibrant voices of the yellblock.

Sponsored by Miss Winslow, Mrs. Rees, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Huggler, and Mrs. Beck, the KHS Yellblock aroused excitement at basketball and football games with rollicking routines. During basketball season, the block journeyed to Southport and watched the Kats tackle the Southport Cardinals. They also collected funds for the March of Dimes at a home basketball game.

In addition to other service projects performed throughout the year, biweekly meetings enabled these young men to tackle the challenge of sponsoring a party for crippled children, an Easter Seal Campaign, and a city-wide blood drive. Local carwashes and clean-ups afforded the members numerous opportunities to render helpful service to every citizen of the Kokomo area.

Girls' Athletic Association was an organization designed to give all the girls in our school the opportunity to participate in various physical activities. An intramural program within the school and contests with other schools in such sports as softball, basketball, volleyball, bowling, and track were the main functions of GAA. After defeating other local schools in these activities the girls took part in both local and state competition.

Under the qualified leadership of Mrs. Huggler, GAA had as one of its primary objectives to promote physical fitness and good sportsmanship.

Kips Master Synchronized Swimming

Last year, 42 girls who sought to improve their aquatic talents but who did not have amble time for participation in competitive swimming joined Kips. The primary objective of Kips was to help develop coordination, precision, and team spirit in such water stunts as the Catalina, the Eiffel Tower, and the Barracuda. After perfecting these stunts, the girls worked together with Mrs. Friedrich to originate and to perform a musical water ballet to which they invited the members of the community.

Even though Kips did not take part in competition against other schools, an award system was available by which members could receive points.

Before performing a stunt, Kips discuss how they will work together to execute it perfectly.

Educators

Oversee Staff, Students, and Curriculums

Administrative officers faced additional problems created by the renovation of KHS. Final decision for the remodeling rested with Dr. Robert Dalton, superintendent of schools. Giving assistance was Mr. Robert Fligor, business manager.

The School Board, a necessary part of the educational system was directed by President Morris Boyce. Mr. Kenneth Crook, principal, was responsible for the proper functioning of staff and students. Mr. Joseph Mullins and Mr. Frank Moore, assistant principals, lessened Mr. Crook's duties. Deans and counselors solved many student conflicts. Cooperating together, the officers established Kokomo High as a progressive school.

Mr. Fligor has been active in the Air Force as a pilot for twenty-two years. He was stationed at Bunker Hill Air Force Base for nine years and retired as a lieutenant colonel. He earned his Bachelor of Science Degree at Indiana University and accomplished graduate work at Ball State University. He received his teaching certificate in the social studies field.

Mr. Morris Boyce, the president of the school board, has been an active member of our community for many years. He is presently the personnel director at Delco Radio Corporation and is an active member of the Chamber of Commerce, Country Club, and Elks. He and his family, a wife and two sons, attend services regularly at Grace Methodist Church in Kokomo.

Officers Unite to Enforce Policies

In October of 1967, Dr. Robert Dalton accepted his new position as Superintendent of the Kokomo Center Township School Corporation. Dr. Dalton has held many positions prior to this appointment. He began his teaching career in Lafayette, Indiana, as both a teacher and principal. He then moved to Elkhart, Indiana, where he was the elementary coordinator of the Concord Metropolitan School District. Next he returned to Lafayette, Indiana, Purdue University where he was the director of student teaching. Dr. Dalton came to the Kokomo school system in 1964 as the assistant superintendent. He was also a lecturer at the Kokomo Campus of Indiana University. Dr. Dalton received his Bachelor of Science Degree at Indiana State University. He furthered his education by earning his Master of Science Degree and his Doctor of Philosophy Degree at Purdue University.

Mr. Kenneth Crook is the Principal of Kokomo High School. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Manchester College and his Master of Arts Degree from Ball State University. He accomplished extra graduate work at Butler University and Ball State University. In 1939 Mr. Crook began teaching at Roosevelt School. This was his first teaching appointment in the Kokomo school system. In 1941 his teaching position moved to Kokomo High School where he taught math for fourteen years. He became the assistant principal and guidance director of KHS in 1956. Eight years later in 1964 he received the promotion to become the Principal of KHS. Mr. Crook and his family, a wife and two sons, attend services regularly at the Church of Brethern. Besides being the Principal of Kokomo High School, he also has many outside responsibilities. He is a life member of the National Guard, a ten-year member of the Lion's Club, and a member of Elks, Phi Delta Kappa, and the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Assistant Principals and Deans Oversee

Overseeing student activities proves to be a difficult but rewarding job for Mr. Frank Moore, assistant principal of KHS. Mr. Moore earned his Bachelor of Science Degree at Ball State University and his Master of Science Degree at Memonie, Wisconsin. He taught school for twelve years in Kokomo and was the first coordinator of the DCE program at KHS. Prior to his promotion as assistant principal, Mr. Moore was a counselor for two years.

Every Kokomo High School student has a different choice of classes and curriculums. It is the duty of Mr. Joseph Mullins to see that each student receives his specified schedule and curriculum from the IBM machine. Mr. Mullins taught mathematics at KHS for ten years and was the principal of Wallace Elementary School for seven years. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree and Master of Science Degree from Indiana University.

Student Attendance and Activities

Beginning her third year as the Dean of Girls of Kokomo High School, Miss Imogene Winslow is regarded by all girls of KHS as not only an advisor but also as a good friend. She earned her Bachelor of Science Degree from Central Normal College and received her Master of Science Degree from Indiana University. Miss Winslow accomplished additional sixth year work at both Ball State University and Butler University. She taught at Kokomo High School for two years as a physical education teacher and then became a counselor. For six years Miss Winslow was a counselor and in 1966 she became the Dean of Girls. Being a member of the First Baptist Church; Delta Kappa Gamma; and the Indiana Women, Deans, and Counselors Association, adds to the busy routine of Miss Winslow. One of the many activities in school which Miss Winslow is an advisor for is Girls' League. This proves to be a full-time job for her since the membership of this organization consists of every girl enrolled at KHS. She also sponsors yellblock, screens cheerleaders, and is a member of the Administrative Council. In her spare time, Miss Winslow enjoys gardening and playing with her pet dachshund, Deano.

Serving his third year as the Dean of Boys of Kokomo High School, Mr. Kenneth Craig solves many simple and complex problems which young KHS males bring to him every day. Boys seek his advice not only on school matters but also on family problems. Mr. Craig creates a friendly atmosphere between the faculty and the students. He earned his Bachelor of Science and his Master of Science Degrees at Ball State University. Mr. Craig taught social studies at KHS for ten years from 1954-1964. In 1964 he received the appointment of Dean of Boys of Kokomo High School. He is the sponsor of Boys Legion, an organization comprised of all the males enrolled in Kokomo High School. Mr. Craig also has many demanding responsibilities. He is a member of Kiwanis, Tri Delta Kappa, Y's Men, the National Education Association, and the ISTA.

Teachers and

Amid the turmoil of renovation, KHS faculty members worked to provide their students with a normal school atmosphere. In their spare time, many teachers sought to relieve the strain of confusion by pursuing a variety of hobbies. Some found that advancing their own education required innumerable hours but was profitable. Other teachers enjoyed fishing, cooking, singing, bowling, or just spending quiet evenings at home. Desiring to share knowledge of their personal interests, instructors sponsored numerous clubs and extracurricular activities which aided students in expanding insights.

Mike Grant eagerly watches his first basketball game.

Standing near the wall doesn't guarantee safety from a crowd of yellblock members, but Mrs. Pat Beck copes with many difficult problems before a game.

Teachers Earn Students' Gratitude

Change pervaded every phase of the school atmosphere and outside activities. Three faculty members who have devoted a major portion of their lives to education ended their association with KHS this year. This loss was alleviated only by the realization that countless pupils had achieved success because of the wisdom imparted to them by these teachers.

Mr. J. Warren Muncie spent a major portion of his 40 teaching years in the Social Science Department. Fishing is a hobby which he enjoys. After teaching Latin for 20 years, Mrs. Elsie Seagrave plans to paint, write, and organize a summer theater. Miss Lena Zehring, an English teacher, expects to devote much time to her hobbies.

Audio-Visual Materials Aid Teachers

Serving as the audio-visual aid coordinator, Miss Cover frequently assists teachers such as Mr. Abney in planning the year's film budget for their departments.

KHS was fortunate to have a highly proficient and well equipped audio-visual aid department under the qualified direction of Miss Fay Cover. Operating under the Decentralized System, the office was open three periods each day. Both students and teachers used the available equipment for splicing films or learning to operate classroom film projectors. Working closely with the heads of departments, the audio-visual staff adequately fulfilled their primary objective to provide the best materials available for KHS.

As Mr. Leiter watches, Braid Craig and Stan West mark films to be distributed to the various schools throughout the system.

Mr. Landis and Mr. Dunbar are using one of the many new machines purchased for KHS.

Serving the students in the bookstore are Mrs. Finch and Mrs. Fields.

Nutritious food is prepared daily by Mrs. Rogers.

Personnel Perform Services at KHS

The custodial personnel of KHS provided the students and faculty with a pleasant school environment. The janitors and matrons spent innumerable hours cleaning dust and debris from papered classrooms, hallways, and freshly plastered walls and ceilings.

In the cafeteria, Mrs. Rogers faced the problem of a limited budget and personnel help. As the only full-time cafeteria employee, she was nevertheless able to prepare nutritious and appetizing meals for students and teachers.

The bookstore was also involved with many hours of work. Included in this was the distributing of various types of books, classroom materials and other essential needs.

Mrs. Blake spends many hours keeping the Central Building clean.

"Curly" is the affectionate name the students give to this friendly face at KHS.

Seniors Look Forward to Graduation

An upperclassman at IUE directs Fabian Golightly and Jane Brennan to the main office.

Throughout the year, members of Kokomo High School's Class of '68 anxiously awaited and prepared for the graduation which would climax their high school years. For some, it promised the end of textbooks and homework. For others, it was only a stepping stone toward college.

Late last summer, the seniors began looking forward to graduation by scheduling their appointments for senior pictures. Next came the two tasks of ordering announcements and being fitted for caps and gowns. Finally, the time came for saying farewells, receiving presents, and framing that well-deserved diploma.

While shopping, Marilyn Keirn stops to look at luggage she wants for graduation.

Debby O'Connor prepares her announcements for mailing.

Preparing to begin the bike race, the boys line up in the order of their roll room numbers.

Seniors Share Class Day Activities

On Class Day, a multitude of events honoring the 707 graduating seniors took place. An all school convocation was held to recognize the Class of '68 and to award outstanding seniors.

To follow the convocation, the senior class officers planned afternoon activities at Kautz Field. The main event was the senior bike race which was a competition among boys representing the roll rooms. Roll Room 106 won the race. Most of the seniors participated in such other activities as the pie-eating contest, the two-legged race, the tug-of-war matches, the water balloon fight, and the girls' hula hoop race. Although the activities varied from those of past years, Class Day has always been a tradition at KHS.

Mr. Ferguson turns squeamishly as Debbie Schmidt and Marilyn Kern lap pie.

Straining and struggling, Karyn Pierson and Julie Plank show their strength in a tug-of-war.

After assembling a line in the main building, the Class of '68 proudly marches across the street into the gym.

Seniors Terminate High School Years

The honor students march in and take their seats before the rest of the graduating seniors.

On June 7, 707 seniors graduated from Kokomo High School during the formal commencement ceremony in Memorial Gym. After the seniors marched into the gym, Gary Carpenter, class president, introduced Bill Beck, who gave the commencement address to the graduating class and the guests. He spoke in reference to how our country needs stable leadership in a speech entitled "Roads to Responsibility." Following the address, Mr. Mullins presented the seniors to Mr. Morris Boyce, president of Kokomo School Board, who then awarded the diplomas and congratulated each new graduate. Next, Mr. Moore honored the 20 students whose names were placed on the Honor Plaque in the front hall of KHS for outstanding scholastic achievement. Finally, David Grainger gave the benediction. The entire ceremony lasted about an hour. That night, the Class of '68 marched into the gym only as high school seniors. They marched out as high school graduates, future leaders.

Traditional Ceremony Impresses Guests

After all the graduating seniors are present in the gym, they wait for Gary Carpenter's signal to be seated.

Bill Beck delivers the Commencement Address to nearly 6,000 people.

Mr. Morris Boyce presents diplomas and congratulates each graduate.

In between the times he presents prizes, Wayne Coty enjoys talking to new graduates.

Jeff Bassett portrays strange expressions as he dances.

After the commencement exercises, grads enjoy dancing until 3:30 in the morning.

Way Through the Final Fling

Terminating a wonderful year, the "Final Fling" climaxed the evening of the graduation of the class of '68. Parents planned, sponsored, and chaperoned this momentous event. The honored seniors danced to the music of the "Cambridge Five" and for a welcome change of pace swam in the Seashore Swimming Pool. Lucky seniors accumulated numerous prizes such as watches, radios, and record players.

Nearly everyone at the Final Fling enjoys fried chicken and other goodies to eat.

Although the 1968 Sargasso was written and edited by a student staff, several outside persons and organizations gave their time and services to make this yearbook outstanding. We would like to extend our appreciation to Mr. Pat McHendrix who took the photographs for the five colored spreads. Mr. Dow Richardson and the Kokomo Tribune were responsible for obtaining the pictures used in the current events section from the United Press International and various newspapers throughout the state. Adams Studio also provided invaluable help. The entire staff joins in expressing their thanks.
